Khenchen Nyima Gyaltzen Rinpoche

was born in 1976. He studied both at the Drikung Kagyu Jangchubling Monastery in Dehradun and at the Dzongsar Shedra Monastic College in Bir, India. In 2002 he was appointed as a Khenpo by His Holiness Drikung Kyabgon Chetsang and since then he has been a teacher at the Kagyu College and responsible for compiling texts and instructing Western translators. From 2005 onwards, buddhist texts have been translated into foreign languages under his guidance for several months each year. In 2008, he started to teach in Dharma centers in the East and West during his annual holidays. In 2013, he was appointed by His Holiness as the second Khenchen of the main seat of Drikung Kagyu in India. Rinpoche's knowledge and realization are vast and he is often invited to hold seminars, debates, and analysis on classics like Gong Chig and Madhyamaka Shastra by monasteries throughout India. Rinpoche will share his insights based on the buddhist classics and his own experience.
